Other Significant Information
His father James Blagden died in November 1884 and was buried in St. Mary Churchyard, Market Lavington on 8th November 1884
His mother remarried on 22nd April 1889 at All Saints, West Lavington (recorded as Sarah Ann Blagden, widow)
Awarded the 1914 Star and Clasp, Victory & British War Medal; 1914 Star Medal without clasp issued to T. Blagden, Brother on 11th November 1919
The only connection made to Bratton is that his named next of kin, brother Thomas, was resident in the village.
From our research at this stage we cannot find a memorial to Henry in West Lavington
No information has come to light regarding his occupation of Collier before enlistment at Aberdare. Aberdare, Glamorganshire would have been a mining area which had increased production from the mid 1870s. Many Wiltshire men who could no longer find readily available work on the land migrated to the coal fields of South Wales and it would appear that Henry was one of them.
